

Presenter Bio's

Akeem Browder is a social justice advocate and agent of change. The Bronx native works to honor the legacy of his brother Kalief Browder, and mother Venida Browder by working with elected official, lawyers, doctors, college students and community based organizations to change laws, policies and regulations that devastate poor communities and families that have been impacted by mass incarceration and solitary confinement in State prisons.

He is the founder of Shut Down Rikers, and the Kalief Browder Foundation. A civil engineer by trade, he is currently traveling the country promoting the six-part Spike TV docu-series Time: The Kalief Browder Story.

Ms. Amy Anapolsky is a licensed clinical social worker currently serving as the Mental Health Coordinator at Clark County Detention Center in Las Vegas, NV. Amy is a graduate from UNLV and has dedicated her career to the Las Vegas community. She is a board-certificated Clinical Social Worker Supervisor and Agency Field Instruction with UNLV, Grand Canyon University, and Walden University. She has practiced social work in medical settings, trauma centers, crisis intervention, inpatient acute mental health facilities, and incarceration settings.

Jessica Arabski, DO, is the program director of the forensic psychiatry fellowship program in the Kirk Kerkorian School of Medicine at UNLV Department of Psychiatry and Behavioral Health. Dr. Arabski completed undergraduate studies at Fordham College at Lincoln Center in New York City and has degrees in economics and political science. She attended Columbia Journalism School, where she completed a master's degree, and she went on to complete medical school at Touro University Nevada. She completed her psychiatry residency at the Kirk Kerkorian School of Medicine and a forensic psychiatry fellowship at the Oregon Health & Science University in Portland, Oregon. Dr. Arabski is the chief psychiatrist at the Clark County Detention Center in Las Vegas.